Why Become a Centre Member?

The Environment Centre is an independent, local charity which relies on grants and donations from a wide range of sources. Regular membership fees make an important contribution to help the Centre continue its work. The Centre is also a membership organisation so requires the direct involvement and support of local people.

Your membership will help the Environment Centre to:

- Provide a hub for environmental activity and projects;
- Organise and promote environmental events, training and activities for schools, community groups and the general public;
- Host exhibitions, demonstrations and information on green technology, sustainability and environmental art;
- Work in partnership with other voluntary organisations, local authorities and businesses to influence their policies;
- Offer support and meeting space for community groups and environmental organisations;
- Provide volunteering opportunities in our Green Shop and Café and through our project work.

As a member you can receive our online newsletter Green Light and updates on Centre activities (please tick box overleaf). You'll also be invited to special events, such as our AGM where you can have a say on the Centre's work.
